Re: 2nd Protest Policy for Applications for Permit to Drill (APD)

*Mark Watson
May 13/19*

The WOGCC continues to experience an increasing number of protested APDs and the majority of these applications are continued month to month because of the large volume of cases before the Commission. In order to efficiently manage this and reduce costs for applicants, a new policy will be implemented with the May 2019 hearings as follows:

1. New APD protest applications will be date-stamped and assigned a docket number. A filing fee is required at the time of filing.
2. All current and future protested APDs will be immediately placed on the inactive "B" docket for an indefinite period.
